A FRIDAY SPECIAL IN LONG CLOTH.

Fifty pieces this morning at $1.25 each.

Twelve yards in each piece and a fine soft finished cloth. The folks that get in early will find it on tables in front of the white goods department. Afraid late comers won't find it at all-dollar and a quarter is a very little price for this cloth.

While Plaue 25¢ Yard, Worth 40c.

Not only worth it, but would have cost you forly cents if we hadn't got hold of an importer, who had overstocked himself on the most popular pattern of Pique this spring—a small-sized cord. He was glad to unload some at a sacrifice.

White Irish Linen Suiting.

Heavy weights and ninety inches wide-think of that for width and its been no easy matter to got this linen either. Lots of people been asking for it. Couldn't get such a heavy weight as we have. Dollar a yard.

Social and Personal

The weekly meeting of the Confederate, Bazaar Association, presided over by Mrs. Joseph Bryan, was held in Lee Camp Hall yesterday at noon.

The minutes of the last meeting were read, after which the reports of the secretary and treasurer showing $855 in bank to the credit of the Association. This fund is made up largely of membership fees and has nothing whatever to do with the individual fund which belongs to each table.

In reports from the different tables, Mrs. Anderson gave the amount-$11-made by the Virginia table from the excursion to Williamsburg last Saturday, Mrs. Anderson also acknowledged a gift to her table of two cases of champagne. Mrs. John L. Eubank displayed the very pretty China plates which are the souvenirs of the South Carolina table, and said the Charleston Chapter of Confederate Daughters had ordered one hundred with the South Carolina blue and have the State carticles was not a consequence. with the South Carolina blue and have the State cart-of-arms in the center.

This May Be Result of the New Land Bill.

JOHN REDMOND'S OPINION

He Thinks it by Far the Best Bill Presented by an English Government and That With Amendments It May Work Wonders.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, March 26,—Former Congress-man W. Bourke Cockran, of New York, will not be able to be present at the convention of Irish Nationalists to be held in Dublin April 14th for the purpose of considering the 1rish land purchase bill ntroduced in the House of Commons yesterday. His doctors say he must not leave the warm climate of Egypt until May, as his lungs are seriously affected, and he will remain at Assouan, upper Egypt. John Redmond, the Irish leader, and other Irish members of the House of Commons deeply regret the fact that Mr Cockran will not be present at the con-vention. The Irish members maintain the same attitude towards the land bill, reserving serious criticism of the measure until the text is published, and are await-ing the decision of the convention before committing themselves to a definite poluntil the toxt is published, and are awaiting the decision of the convention before committing themselves to a definite policy.

John Redmond wrote the following:

"The land bill in many respects is a far-reaching and important measure. It proposes a loan for the purpose of enabling the landlords to be bought out to the extent of a hundred million pounds, in addition to a bonus, not to be repaid, to amount to at least 12,000,000 pounds. The bill does not fill all the requirements of the case. It does not provide as good terms either for the landlords or tenants as proposed at the recent land conference, but it marks an enormous advance on any measure of its kind hitherto proposed by an English government. It is the direct result of the unity of the National movement in Ireland and the National movement in Ireland and the National movement in Ireland and the National movement in the conclusion of coercion in Ireland and which induced the landlords to come to the conclusion that their best interests lay in making friends with the Irish people, instead or continuing to conflict with them. The land conference which ensued spoke in the name of united Ireland.

"Regarding the result of this measure, I cannot speak with any certainty. Its details, many of which seem to me highly objectionable, are capable of improvement by discussion. If this measure should provide, as every one hopes, a settlement of the land question, not only will a great social and industrial problem be put once for all on a sound basis, but it will make a concession to home rule, In answer to the united demand of all classes in Ireland, in the near future, a certainty. "Until the clauses of this bill are accurately in my hands, I cannot, of course, say whether they will actually carry out the project in view. Therefore, I cannot spatch to a certainty if the bill will be ascentile in view. Therefore, I cannot the matter. If it rejects the bill the measure will be dead. If it accepts it, subject to certain amendments, it is quite porsible the bill

AMEND MARRIAGE LAWS

Hon. Chas. M. Wallace, Jr., Offers Important Bill.

A measure of wide interest has been introduced in the House by Mr. Wallace, of Richmond, in relation to divorce proceedings. The husband having a legal right to detain her in his custedy. He could sue and recover possession of her body as if she were a chattel. So, if he were cruel, a wife beater, she had no means of escape; and the partial divorce was then a relief and a measure of justice. In this day, however, a wife may escape from her husband, and if he follows her, may obtain a restraining order to prevent him from visiting her. This form of divorce has been extended to cases of desertion, and after the desertion has been continued for three years, a decree of absolute divorce may be obtained. The law in this way presents the inconsistency of seperating man and wife upon a trivial cause, and then divorcing them because they continue seperate. This has a tendency to demoralize society, and it is surprising that no move has ever been made to change such a corrupt law." Mrs. Robert T. "Last night Rev. Mr. Wiley preached a strong sermon at the mission, selecting as his text, 'The Wages of Sin Is Doath, but the Gift of God Is Mternal Life', After the address a young man in the congregation advanced to the platform and confessed reformation. Rev. Mr. Wiley will remain here to-day, and this morning will conduct a religious service at the mission, which will be closed by what is known as a question bureau, wherein the congregation are asked to ask for suggestions. This evening Mr. Wiley will preach again at the mission, thus closing his work here. On Sunday he preached three sermons during the day at the churches. Our Home Bakers.

To the Editor of The Times-Dispatch:
Sir.—I see from your paper of to-day that a "Philadelphia syndicate proposes to build a great bread plant here with the avowed purpose of acquiring every bakery in Richmond, or start an opposition business of such mammoth proportions that the smaller fellows will eventually be driven out." If this is true, it is simply an outrage that should not be tolerated. We all know that there are a large number of honest, hard-working people here who make a moderate living by the bakery business, and no man, either resident or non-resident, has any right to use the power of wealth to ruin their business. There is no more honest or most useful class of cilizens than our bakers, and they should be protected. The people should rise in their majesty and dignity and put down such an undertaking. I will be one to sign a paper not to buy an ounce of anything from such people, and I hope every man, woman and child in Richmond will do the same thing. I trust you can see your way clear to condemn such an enterprise and to use your influence against it.

Very truly, yours, influence against it. Very truly, yours,
